On April 13, 2017, PO Sargent and his partner were the first officers to arrive at a NYCHA building after a stabbing. There was no description of the person who had committed the stabbing. The officers entered the building and found a man in the stairwell. According to the man, the officers pointed their guns, put him against the wall, and frisked him before telling him there had been a stabbing. He described both officers, including describing a skin condition of PO Sargent’s hands. According to PO Sargent’s partner, the officers encountered the man in the stairwell and asked him if he had seen or heard anything, but did not search him and let him pass by after he said he had not.

PO Sargent himself stated that he did not enter the building but simply stood outside while his partner conducted a patrol, but the man had provided a particularly detailed description of PO Sargent, including accurately describing a skin condition. The CCRB found that the officers had improperly stopped the man at gunpoint and that there was evidence that PO Sargent had made a false official statement when he stated he did not enter the stairwell.

The NYPD only punished PO Sargent for failing to complete a memo book entry for the incident. On a letter from the Brooklyn District Attorney, the CCRB finding of False official statement is disclosed with no underlying information.

Subsequently, the NYPD substantiated allegations and issued instructions against PO Sargent for incomplete, inaccurate, or discrepant reporting in three separate incidents in March 2018 and May 2018.

Findings and Recommendations

Explanation of Subject Officer Identification

PO Sargent denied that he ever entered the building during this incident, and that he ever stopped or had any other interaction with him. Rather, he stated he remained outside of the building setting up a crime scene. He stated he did not know if PO McDonald entered the building to conduct a vertical patrol (03 Board Review).

PO McDonald stated that he and PO Sargent entered the building to conduct a vertical patrol within minutes of arriving at and that they encountered on the fifth floor of the building while conducting the patrol (04 Board Review). PO McDonald and PO Sargent were the first two officers to arrive at this location after the report of the stabbing, and no other officers had arrived at the time that they conducted this vertical patrol.

described the first subject officer as a 6’0” tall, muscular black male in his mid-30s, and the second subject officer as a 5’6” tall, average-built black male in his early 30s, with a skin condition that gave him a blotchy skin complexion on his hands (05 Board Review). PO Sargent is a 5’7” tall, 160-pound, old black male, and PO McDonald is a 6’0” tall, 270-pound, old black male. Additionally, according to the IAB callout materials, the ICO assistant of the 67th Precinct, PO Calvo, told Lt. John Orrechia of IAB that PO McDonald is the only officer in the 67th Precinct with the aforementioned skin condition on his hands (06 Board Review).

Allegation A: Abuse of Authority – PO Andreas Sargent stopped

Allegation B: Abuse of Authority – PO Christopher McDonald stopped

Allegation D: Abuse of Authority – PO Christopher McDonald searched

Allegation E: Abuse of Authority – PO Christopher McDonald threatened to arrest
Allegation F: Abuse of Authority – PO Christopher McDonald refused to provide his shield number to

PO Christopher McDonald refused to provide his shield number to the officers, PO Sargent and PO McDonald approached him from the stairs leading from the 0th floor. PO Sargent had his gun pointed at him and told him to “Freeze.” PO McDonald told the officers he did not have any weapons and asked why PO Sargent was pointing his gun at him. The officers told them they were investigating a stabbing in the building, and asked him to come with them. PO Sargent asked why he would go with them if he had not done anything, at which point PO Sargent told PO McDonald that he was not cooperating. The officers then grabbed him, placed him against a wall, and PO McDonald asked if he had anything sharp on him. PO McDonald stated he did not, and PO McDonald then searched inside of his pants pockets. PO McDonald then asked for his name, address, date of birth, and phone number, and PO McDonald provided this information. PO McDonald told not to say anything about the stop or he would be arrested for not cooperating. PO McDonald asked PO McDonald for his shield number, and PO McDonald stated it was “confidential,” and did not provide it. Then continued down the stairs to exit his building.

PO McDonald stated that he and PO Sargent conducted a vertical patrol of the building within several minutes of arriving at As they reached the 0th floor, they came across who was descending from the 0th floor staircase. PO McDonald asked if he knew anything regarding a gunshot, a fight, or anything of that nature. replied that he had heard screaming on the 0th floor, but he stated he did not know anything else. PO McDonald told to be careful, as someone in the area could have a gun, knife, or other weapon, and that someone had just been killed in front of the building. then continued descending the stairs while the officers continued with their vertical patrol. PO McDonald denied that PO Sargent pointed his gun at or had his gun drawn during the incident. PO McDonald denied that asked anything else, that he searched that he ever threatened to arrest and that asked him for his shield number. PO McDonald also denied that the officers had received a description of the perpetrator of the stabbing, that he made any observations about that made him suspect he was involved in the stabbing, and that he made any observations about which made him believe he was armed. PO McDon had a calm demeanor while speaking with the officers, and there were no bulges on his person. There were no factors which caused PO McDonald to suspect of any crimes during this interaction.

While PO Sargent was consistent with his partner that they were the first officers to arrive during this incident, he denied ever entering the building at that location, as discussed in the officer identification section. He denied conducting a vertical patrol with PO McDonald, and he denied stopping. When shown a photograph of PO Sargent stated he did not recognize him. PO Sargent denied pointing his gun at observing PO McDonald search hearing PO McDonald threaten to arrest and hearing ask PO Sargent for his shield number. PO Sargent also denied that the officers received any description or other information in regards to a perpetrator of the stabbing.

The event report for this incident confirms that there was no description or any other information regarding the suspect of the stabbing provided to the officers during this incident. The job came over the radio at 8:13 p.m., and the anti-crime unit (to which PO McDonald and PO Sargent were assigned) arrived at the location at 8:16 p.m. They were the first police unit listed as having arrived at the location (08 Board Review).

In order to stop an individual, an officer must have reasonable suspicion that that person has committed or is about to commit a crime. For reasonable suspicion to exist, an officer must have an objective and particularized basis to suspect an individual is involved in criminal activity. Patrol Guide Procedure 212-11 (09 Board Review). Merely observing an individual at a location where a violent crime has recently occurred does not grant an officer reasonable suspicion to detain that person, absent a description of a suspect, or any other factors linking the individual to the crime. People v. Dickerson, 153 A.D.2d 897 (1989) (10 Board Review). In order for an officer to point his gun at an individual, that person must have caused the officer to reasonably fear for his or her safety. PD vs. Gliner, OATH Index No. 955/00 (Sept. 6, 2000) (11 Board Review). In order to search an individual, an officer must have probable cause to arrest that person. Otherwise, the officer must reasonably believe, after having frisked the individual, that
